He told the thief that the king's treasury was protected by a magical spell, which would punish any thief who tried to steal from it. Raman then pretended to be a magician and convinced the thief that Raman himself could cast a spell to catch him. Raman challenged the thief to a contest of wit. When it was time to sell, Raman showed the merchant that he had made a profit, but in reality, he had only exchanged the items. Over time, the seed grew into a beautiful mango tree, providing the Brahmin with fruit and shade. Seeing the benefits of hard work, the Brahmin became more diligent. Raman used this story to teach that patience and effort bring rewards. Moral Lesson: Hard work and patience lead to fruitful results.

5. Raman and the King's New Clothes

Story Summary: The king was tricked by two tailors into believing he was wearing a magnificent new suit that was invisible to fools. The king, not wanting to appear foolish, pretended to admire the clothes. Raman, however, saw through the trick.
