The immediate aftermath was catastrophic: approximately 140,000 people had died by the end of the year, with countless others suffering from injuries, radiation sickness, and long-term health effects. The bombing marked the dawn of the nuclear age and left a scar on the collective consciousness of humanity.

Sadako Sasaki's Childhood and Exposure

Sadako Sasaki was only two years old when Hiroshima was bombed. She was a healthy, energetic girl who loved to run and play. However, as years passed, Sadako and many other survivors began experiencing the insidious health effects of radiation exposure.
